High Level Inspection

INSPECTING — Lawrence Hoban, assistant administrator of Mary's Help hospital, points out some of the special features of the proposed hospital to be built in Daly City during the next two years to Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci (left) and Councilman Francis Pacelli (right). Construction on the new facility is scheduled to begin within the next 60 days. The hospital, to be erected at a cost of more than $8 million, will have 250 beds.

City Takes Next Annexation Step

Oceana 2nd Phase Plans Are Okayed

By DON MILLER

Jefferson High school district trustees Monday night approved preliminary plans for the second phase of Oceana High school after hearing an assurance from its noted architect that new construction would not alter the basic appearance of the school.

The second phase will boost the school's capacity from 900 to 1500 students. A master plan for Oceana calls for an ultimate enrollment of 2000.

Mario J. Ciampi, architect for the school, outlined plans for the second phase and noted:

"We feel very confident that Oceana will not be disfigured or changed in any way. It will look substantially the way it is now."

The school is considered by many as one of the outstanding examples of modern school architecture in Northern California.

Ciampi explained that the second and third phases of the school will be added to the rear of the present building.

Gym Completion

The second phase, in addition to providing more classrooms to accommodate 600 additional students, will provide for the completion of the gymnasium.

Ciampi said the gymnasium now is "uncomplimentary" to the total Oceana development because it has not been finished.

New construction will complete the circular design of the structure and provide an exercise room and additional lockers, he added.

The addition will cost roughly a million dollars, according to District Superintendent Edward D. Morgan. The district hopes to begin construction by late this summer, he said.

Paul W. Reiter, Ciampi's associate, said the second phase program calls for an access road to the Coast Highway, which is being redeveloped by the State Highway department.

He said the program will provide a "variety of sizes of classrooms that will give the school as much flexibility as is possible at this time."

Two Years Away

District officials estimate that the third and final phase of Oceana's development is about two years away.

Originally, the master plan for the school called for a maximum of 1500 students.

Council Approves Petition Program

By RON BATES

The Daly City council took another step in annexation of the inhabited portion of Bayshore City Monday night when it formally approved the circulation of a petition by Bayshore residents who seek to join Daly City.

Acting under the Inhabited Annexation Law of 1913, the council acknowledged receipt of an intent to circulate the petition and an affidavit of publication of the intent.

The proponents for annexation must wait until March 6 before they can begin to circulate the petition.

The land proposed for annexation by Daly City is approximately 380 acres with an estimated assessed valuation of $4.5 million.

By its move Monday night, Daly City gained exclusive jurisdiction in any annexation move in the area.

The council began annexation in another direction Monday when it moved to include all the land covered by the proposed Mary's Help Hospital.

The 250-bed hospital site is located just south of the Daly City boundary line.

Ruling by Commission

The proposed annexation was sent to the San Mateo County Boundary Commission for a ruling.

Groundbreaking at the hospital is expected to take place within 60 days. Construction of $8 million the facility is planned over two years.

Councilman Edward Dennis moved that City Attorney Paul Hupf draw up a resolution for the council expressing "wholehearted support" to Assemblyman Leo Ryan's bill asking for an additional municipal court judge for Daly City and two superior court judges for San Mateo County.

The council unanimously approved Dennis' motion.

The council spent a good part of the meeting hearing citizen's complaints from George Kirchhubel and Bert Phillips.

Kirchhubel expressed dissatisfaction with the council's pay-as-you-go policy and asked if a report had been made, as requested in 1957, of possible civic center site locations by a 10-man citizen's committee.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said an investigation would be made but he did not recall any such report being received by the council.

Policy Defended

Councilman Robert St. Clair defended the council's fiscal policy, saying that because of pay-as-you-go planning "the financial picture today has never been so good."

He said that the reason the city is studying sites for a civic center at the present time is due to the fiscal policy started six years ago by the council.

Phillips, who lives at 399 Vista Grande avenue, complained to the council about children playing in front of his house on the streets and sidewalks and wanted to know what the council felt about it.

Both Verducci and St. Clair said the streets and sidewalks were public property and that no one could deny the use of them to the children.

The council directed the city manager to refer the matter to the Police department to see if a malicious disturbance is being intentionally directed at Phillips by the neighbors.

Service Awards

In other action, the council gave service awards to 25 city employees whose length of service ranged from five to 20 years.

Receiving awards were:

Evelyn Weckerle, Rose Marie Kraus, Doris Rehe, Florence Sibbach, Thelma Stockman, Horace Fitts, Frank Martin, Paul de Natale, John Jacob, Richard Merlo, Richard Verducci, Richard May and Richard Brewer.

Arlene Keough, Robert Crocker, James Sunderland, Arthur Linhares, Charles Munday, John Walsh, August Conci, Amedia Gonnella, Verne Simpson, Joseph Intaschi, Harry Krohn and William Byrne.

Brisbane's Annex Move Is Opposed

A public hearing on the city's controversial annexation of bay front lands as far north as the San Francisco county line was continued until next Monday by Brisbane city councilmen last Monday night after five written protests were submitted to the city.

Although four of the protests, prepared under provisions of a state act regulating the annexation of uninhabited territory, were submitted by private property owners, the fifth was from the Bayshore City sanitary district, part of whose territory lies within the area to be annexed.

Although some 50 persons attended Monday night's hearing, City Manager Lanier S. Brady reported no oral protests were submitted.

The hearing was continued at the request of the State Lands commission, which asked further action be delayed until after its meeting Friday. The council is expected to overrule protests at the second part of the public hearing next Monday and continue with the annexation.

In other actions, councilmen:

Referred a proposed new business license ordinance amendment to Brady and City Attorney Conrad Reisch for review. Brady has recommended that business license fees be based on the number of employes as at present, but that the amount of maximum business fees be lowered.

Received a recommendation from Brady that the city continue to rent the former office of the Brisbane water district for $65 a month. Several councilmen have indicated that the city will not need the office, however.

S.S.F. Man Burned in Trailer Fire

John Joseph Ferris, 40, night manager of the Westlake Auto company in Daly City, suffered second degree burns of the face, neck and arms when he fled through a wall of fire in his underclothing from his blazing trailer at Treasure Island Trailer Court, 1700 El Camino Real, South San Francisco, Monday.

Only the fact that the trailer court was annexed to South San Francisco only two weeks ago prevented a major catastrophe, Fire Chief John Marchi said. He said that even though South San Francisco engine companies were able to reach the fire in less than two minutes, in contrast to the 15 or 20 minutes that would have been required by the state division of forestry in Belmont, Ferris' car and two other house trailers were damaged.

Marchi said Ferris' trailer was already two-thirds involved in flames, his 1962 car parked next to the trailer was involved, and trailers on each side of the burning trailer had their windows cracked and their metal sides warped from intense heat. Damage was estimated at $12,000 by Marchi.

Ferris, who had retired about 10 a.m. after working the night previously, was asleep in the rear of the trailer when the fire broke out from undetermined causes in front of the trailer. Awakened by the heat, Ferris had to flee through a wall of flames to the only doorway near the front of the trailer.

Firemen were hampered in bringing the blaze under control because of the lack of water in the trailer court. Marchi said a series of standpipes in the trailer court had almost no water or pressure at all, and firemen had to carry water to the fire in tanks on their trucks.

Laguna Race Draws Four Candidates

A wide open race for two seats on the Laguna Salada Elementary School board highlights the school board election picture in the North County at this time.

Four persons have filed for two posts held by Robert Hale and William Kesinger on the Laguna Salada board.

In the Jefferson Elementary and High School districts, all incumbents whose terms are expiring have filed to seek re-election.

No other candidates have filed for the posts.

Kesinger said he will not run for re-election and Hale, who is a charter member o fthe Laguna Salada board, has yet to declare his intentions. Deadline for filing is Friday.

These persons have filed for the two Laguna Salada posts:

Building Period Is Reviewed

Sister Hermine, administrator of Mary's Help hospital in San Francisco, hosted Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci, the city council and members of the technical staff, at a dinner meeting at the hospital last Wednesday evening.

Purpose of the meeting was to review matters of mutual interest to the hospital and community leaders during the two-year construction of the new 250-bed facility in Daly City.

Items included in the discussion were annexation of the hospital site, zoning, water supply, access routes, transportation and liaison with city agencies.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Verducci, Councilmen Francis Pacelli, Robert St. Clair, Michael de Bernardi, City Manager Edward Frank and Director of Finance Joseph Arch.

Also present were the Rev. Timothy E. O'Brien, director of health and hospitals for the archdiocese of San Francisco, Dean Folker, architect, and Lawrence Hoban, hospital assistant administrator.

Mary's Help Start Planned for April

Bids for construction of Mary's Help hospital in Daly City will go out in the early part of April and construction will begin shortly after, according to George Hill, director of the Mary's Help Hospital Building fund.

Hill and Gene Hoffman, hospital public relations director, appeared before the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Thursday to kick off a fund drive in this area for approximately $1.5-million.

Hill explained that the 250-bed hospital was being located in Daly City because the north San Mateo county area was classified "the most urgent in need in California" by the Bureau of Hospitals of the State Health department.

Not all of the $1.5-million is expected to come from the Daly City-Pacifica-Colma area, Hill explained. Donations have already begun in San Francisco.

The hospital is expected to cost $8,353,000. Of this total, the state and the federal government are contributing $3.8-million in matching funds.

The Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent dePaul have donated $3,053,000, of which one million was borrowed from the bank.

A balance of $1.5-million or 18 per cent of the total remains to be raised, Hill said. In order to qualify for state and federal funds, the money "must be forthcoming in a way that leaves no doubt," Hill told the chamber members.

The hospital will be run by the Daughters of Charity, the campaign director said, one of the oldest and largest of orders of sisters.

"They have been tending the sick in five continents, and 48 of the fifty states," he said. "They run 3500 hospitals in the world and the order has been in existence for 350 years."

In describing the hospital, Hill said it will be the "most unique, most modern, most complete hospital anywhere."

"It will be a truly magnificent hospital," he said, "wholly unique and with a brand-new design."

"Each patient will have a picture window," he added.

100 Linda Mar Citizens Protest Sanchez Station

An open letter, signed by 100 Linda Mar citizens protesting the Sanchez Adobe gas station, has been made public.

"Service offered on the site in question will not be welcome in this community," states the letter to the Union Oil company, which will operate the station.

The letter was initiated by Fred Avilez of 1352 Adobe drive and David Marvin, 1056 Monte Verde drive.

Meanwhile, the oil company announced that a contract for the construction of the service station on the controversial lot at Linda Mar boulevard and Adove drive has been awarded to Copple Construction company of San Jose. Work was expected to begin this week.

Nearly six months of litigation over the station ended this winter when the Pacifica City Council was ordered by the Superior Court to grant a building permit for the service station.

Text of Letter

The text of the letter reads:

"The recent court decision has opened the way to a Union Oil company service station at Linda Mar boulevard and Adobe drive. We, the undersigned, feel that this is an appropriate time to make clear our opinion on this issue, as the case is no longer subject to judicial consideration and, on the other hand, construction has not yet begun.

"The facts of the matter are clear. The lot in question was

That Parking Won't Change

Student parking facilities at Jefferson High school, none-existent at the present time, will remain so in the future, trustees of the Jefferson Union High School district were told last night.

Wesley Hall, educational consultant for Falk and Booth, architects for the reconstruction of Jefferson and an addition providing a dozen rooms, said parking for a total of only 92 autos is planned in the over-all program for Jefferson.

District Superintendent Edward D. Morgan indicated that all 92 would be required for employe use. At present, there are about 50 parking spaces at the school.

Morgan reported that student parking "has never been a problem" at Jefferson. He said students park their cars on the street.

Elio Fontana, vice president of the board of trustees, indicated, however, that some sort of parking should be provided.

"We're going to have parking problems with neighbors in the area," he said. "I think we should do something about it now."

The parking situation arose during a presentation by Hall of a revised master plan for Jefferson.

The plan calls for an ultimate maximum enrollment of about 1750 students instead of 2000. The school's capacity now is 1534 students.

District officials decided to revise the master program because of the small site Jefferson is located upon—about 20 acres—in re-

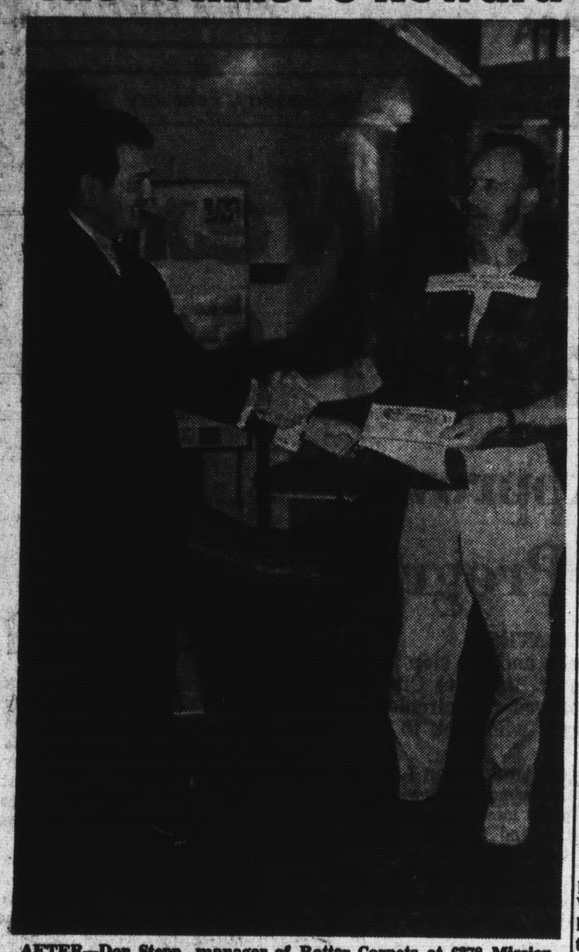
WESTLAKE STORES OPEN WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY NIGHTS

The Winner's Reward



AFTER—Don Stepp, manager of Better Carpets at 6278 Mission street, congratulates Air Force Recruiting Sergeant Bernie Herbert for his fancy stepping in beating Navy Recruiter Chief Jack Kelly in a 50-mile hike last week. Herbert finished the hike in 15 hours, 50 minutes, while Kelly made it in an even 16 hours. (Post-Times photo)

Air Force Sinks Navy

The Air Force sunk the Navy Friday in a contest that should have been for the Army.

Daly City Air Force recruiting Sergeant Bernie Herbert walked away from Navy recruiting Chief Petty Officer Jack Kelly, also stationed in Daly City, in a 50-mile hike.

Herbert ducked through the doorway at Better Carpets at 6278 Mission street just ten minutes ahead of Kelly and just ten minutes under 16 hours.

The two contestants were driven to a point 50 miles south of the store on Highway 101 and began walking at 11 Thursday night.

Herbert arrived at the finish line at 2:50 p.m., and Kelly at 3 p.m.

The two men each took three half-hour breaks along the route to eat and rest.

Herbert received a carpet from Don Stepp, owner of the carpet store, for winning the race. Kelly received a consolation prize of six throw rugs.

Herbert said Kelly set a stiff pace at the beginning of the hike. The Navy chief faded in the stretch, however, as Herbert got his second wind.

Both recruiters stepped up their pace for the last four miles and double-timed the last 400 yards.

Oceana 2nd Phase Plans Are Okayed

Morgan, noting that altering a master plan always presents considerable problems, commended the two architects for the final program they have evolved.

In approving the preliminary plans for the second phase, the board authorized the architects to proceed with final working plans.

In another high school expansion development, the trustees received a report from the state that the district has met all state allocation requirements in connection with the second phase of Terra Nova High school.

This phase will add 13 classrooms to Terra Nova and boost the school's capacity from 1000 to about 1500 students. Cost is set at $1,080,000.

Bid Program

A representative of Falk and Booth, the district's architects for both Terra Nova and Jefferson High schools, outlined a bid program—calling for several phases of the over-all program to be awarded on separate bids.

In other action, the board:

Was informed that a swimming pool proposed by Daly City at Westmoor High school would not be counted in square footage totals in future state aid applications by the district.

Daly City has proposed establishing a special recreation assessment district, comprising the area served by Westmoor, to finance the construction of the pool.

Tabled discussion on a Stanford University study report, urging the district to add personnel in its top administrative levels. Morgan urged that discussion be deferred until a draft of the 1963-64 district budget is prepared.

He said the first draft should be in the hands of trustees by the next board meeting.

Approved the hiring of the first of some 30 new teachers that will be needed in the district next year to serve the district's growing enrollment.

The teacher is John G. Leahy, a Stanford graduate who will teach social studies at Jefferson High school.

Verbal Feud on Annex Flares Up

Daly City's feud between its chamber of commerce and city officials over recent annexation moves gained momentum Thursday when the chamber's president assailed criticism of a fellow member.

President Bernard Lycett said criticism of Frank Martorana, head of the chamber's industrial development committee, was unwarranted.

Wednesday, City Attorney Paul Hupf and City Manager Edward Frank issued a joint statement in which they accused Martorana of "wishful thinking and dramatic but questionable allegations of land grabbing . . . and illegality."

In a number of talks recently, Martorana had berated Daly City officials for moving too slowly on annexation in the Bayshore City area, after Brisbane moved to annex 10,000 acres of Bayshore industrial land.

In a statement Lycett said "it took city officials a long time" to criticize Martorana "because Martorana has been shouting about this annexation for over two years."

He added:

"As late as August of 1962, a letter was sent to them (city officials) concerning this matter, and it was never answered. It would appear that a sore spot has been touched."

Lycett lauded Martorana for spending his time developing information on annexation "simply because he has the interest of Daly City and its inhabitants' pocketbooks as his objectives."

Lycett then lashed out at city officials for what he termed was their "negative approach" to annexation moves. He added:

"It would indeed be refreshing to hear or read something resembling a positive approach to this problem."

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas—For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to satisfy everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are at least 18 scalp conditions that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them information such as: how long your hair has been thinning, and whether or not you now have or ever have had any of the following condition: Does your forehead become oily or greasy? Do you have dandruff? Is it dry or oily? Does your scalp have pimples or other irritations? Does your scalp itch and how often? Include any other information you feel might be helpful.

All letters will be answered promptly. Send the above information, and your name and address to Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., Box 66001, Dept. WK-1, Houston 6, Texas.

You May Need a Permit

Before you begin building that new closet or refinishing the basement for an extra room in Daly City, you'd better check with the city's building inspector's office.

"Any job in the home could possibly require a permit," according to Maurice Clark, assistant building inspector. "The installation of a window, for example, could create a hazardous condition and should be inspected."

Clark assists department head George Hopman and inspector Joseph Gerack in looking over plumbing, building plans, construction, heating fixtures and a myriad of other building activities.

Henry Wiesner, chief electrical inspector, and his assistant, Ronald Ensinger, watch all electrical installations.

The inspectors study plans and look at work as it progresses to make sure the city's electrical, plumbing and building codes are being followed.

Codes have become complex since the first building law in America was passed in New Amsterdam in 1625. The law then regulated the type of roofs on houses.

THE DALY CITY office is working on a new electrical and plumbing code to conform with the state code.

The procedure for obtaining a permit is simple, explained Clark. Applicants appear at the office in the War Memorial Community center with two sets of drawings of a planned project.

The simplicity of the procedure may account for the fact that the department handled 3211 inspection permits last year. This does not include free advice given to home handymen who asked for help in construction plans for closets, rumpus rooms and home alterations.

"Depending on the size of the job, the inspectors can sometimes make on-the-spot corrections," Clark said. "On bigger jobs, more time is taken. A plan for a multi-story building may take about two weeks."

"The biggest call is for basement or rumpus rooms," he said.

Permits are required for buildings of all types, additions, alterations, repairs, house moving, plumbing installations, dishwashers, garbage disposals, water softeners, lawn sprinkling installations, gas piping and all gas appliances, electrical installations, wiring, appliances and fixtures and fences more than six feet high.

On certain kinds of exteriors, the building inspector examines everything but the painting.

WITH THE number of new homes being constructed in their jurisdiction, inspectors are kept busy. A new home, Clark pointed out, requires about six inspections while it is being erected.

Inspectors examine foundation forms on their first visit.

Inspections on ground plumbing, rough plumbing, framing and rough electric wiring and exterior lathing are made on subsequent visits. On the sixth and final visit, the inspector makes a gas line test, examines water heaters and furnaces.

The electrical inspector makes one last check before people move in to make sure all electrical fixtures are functioning propertly.

DEPARTMENT HEAD Hopman joined the office on a part-time basis while he was still on the city's police force. He became a full-time employe in 1949 under Arthur Bodien, the city's first building inspector.

Hopman urged residents to avail themselves of free services of the department.

The department doesn't charge a fee to make an inspection of a house for a prospective buyer. A person may be buying a home with violations that will cost him fines later on, he observed.

"Basement apartments, for example, in some areas are illegal," he said, "because the areas are not zoned for multiple-family dwellings."

The Building Inspectors office maintains office hours between 8 and 9:30 a.m., 1 and 1:30 p.m., and 4?30 and 5 p.m. each day.

During other hours, department personnel are in the field, inspecting construction.

Pacifica Asks State School Help

When the state board of education requires a new service of a local school, the state board should provide the means of financing, say Laguna Salada trustees.

In a letter to Thomas Braden, president of the state board, Laguna Salada trustees said their "already severe financial problems have been further complicated by the fact that most of the recent school legislation has not provided any funds to pay for new imposed requirements."

The trustees included a list of 17 items which they say legislators have required of them recently. These include increased compensation insurance benefits for teachers, reduced growth apportionments, duty-free lunch periods for teachers, and polio immunization record-keeping.

The trustees pointed out that California is reported to be twenty-fifth in the nation in the percentage of personal income collected for schools, thirty-fourth in percentage of state and local taxes spent on schools, and twenty-sixth in percentage of school costs borne by the state.

They indicated that these figures show there is room for some improvements by increased taxation for school needs.

The Laguna Salada trustees included a copy of a resolution urging the state to "provide more adequate state aid to local school districts and to provide more nearly equal financial support for the education of children in all districts and counties throughout the state."

Copies of the letter were sent to Gov. Edmond G. Brown, State Senator Richard Dolwig of Redwood City, San Mateo county Assemblymen Leo Ryan and Carl Britschgi, Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty, and all members of the state board of education.

Washington Day Tragedy Injures Six, Four Dead

Beverly Ann Thatcher, 25, was on her way home to Tucson with girl friends from Pacifica Friday morning. It had been a long night's drive, and the five girls were tired as the white convertible whipped eastward across the desert toward the California border at Blythe.

Driver Diane Rose Galzerano, 24, 727 Moana way, Pacifica, pulled out of her lane to pass a car.

She saw another car coming and swerved off the road into the sagebrush and sand 25 miles west of Blythe.

The other driver did the same thing.

Three of the eastbound girls were killed, and a youth in the westbound car was killed.

The other two girls in the convertible were injured and taken to Palo Verde hospital in Blythe.

Four people in the other car were hurt, one of them quite seriously, and were taken to the hospital.

The dead are:

Beverly Ann Thatcher, 471 Pepper avenue, Palo Alto.

Mona Lynn Sullivan, 24, 727 Moany way, Pacifica, a keypunch operator for Pacific Fruit Exchange in San Francisco.

Shirley Priscilla Sandford, 471 Pepper street, Palo Alto, 26.

Gary Sills, 17, Mesa, Arizona.

Badly injured were:

Anna Marie Goff, 24, 727 Moana way, Pacifica, an employe of the Fuller Paint company in San Francisco.

Diane Rose Galzerano, an employe of Western Union in San Francisco.

Also injured were the westbound driver, Gordon Sietsema, 38, Mesa, Arizona, who is the dead youth's stepfather; his wife Evelyn, 40, and their two daughters, Sheri, 7, and Susan, 11.

Five Killed In Mountain Car Crashes

A Daly City resident was among five Bay Area men killed in car accidents over the weekend.

Raymond Scruccimarri, 47, 507 Castle street, Daly City, was one of three killed when a car plunged off Nevada State Highway 28 on the east side of Lake Tahoe some 10 miles north of Stateline, Nev., and smashed into a tree. Killed with him were Leland J. Jenkins, 55, and Frank Truera, 53, San Francisco.

The driver, Mario August Mandoli, 39, 369 Skyline drive, Daly City, is in serious condition at Carson-Tahoe hospital in Carson City.

The accident occurred one mile north of the intersection of State Highway 28 and U. S. Highway 50. The Nevada Highway Patrol said there were no skid marks at the scene and the auto apparently was not traveling at an unusually high speed.

In another accident, two young Palo Alto skiers were killed Sunday when their car spun off U. S. 40, flew 160 feet through the air and hit the bank of a railroad cut.

The victims, Gary Viau, 22, and Richard P. Lawler, 20, a Foothill College student, were heading home after a weekend at Squaw Valley. Highway patrolmen said the car missed a curve on a downgrade one mile west of Baxter in Placer county.

The boy was treated and transferred to St. Luke's hospital, San Francisco. Daly City police said the victim was struck by an auto driven by Cyril Walker Kildea, 32, helicopter airline technician of 833 Crespi drive, Pacifica.

A Southern Guide to Stallings

County Manager E. R. Stallings struck a blow for improved understanding between himself and the members of the board of supervisors last week.

At a meeting of the board last week, during a discussion of recruitment of county officers, it was mentioned that Stallings came here from South Carolina. It was also mentioned that some of the members had difficulty understanding Stallings' southern drawl and the meaning of some of the expressions he used.

Stallings submitted a memo to the board in which he stated: "As an aid to you in understanding me, I am taking the liberty of forwarding to you a glossary of often-used terms originating in the South which will assist you in your interpretation." The glossary follows:

at the POST

THERE USED to be a cigarette slogan, "I'd walk a mile for a Camel."

Recent developments have caused the slogan and the object of its affection to be revised slightly to read, "I'd walk 50 miles for a Kennedy."

I planned walking 50 miles last weekend—not for John, but to test my new Hush-Puppies—but decided, after perusing a map, that there was no real incentive for traveling that distance in any direction on foot.

First, I figured on 25-mile round trips. Walking 25 miles east, I'd end up on the outskirts of Danville. That didn't sound too promising. Walking south, I'd be on the outskirts of Half Moon Bay, headed toward Purissima. I don't have anything against Half Moon Bay but I've never heard of Purissima.

For all I know, they don't even have a rest room there. Had I walked north, I would have found myself on Highway 101 between Ignacio and Novato. Now, neither town is a bad one to be in but I couldn't picture myself being between them.

SO THEN I figured on taking a 50-mile walk one way and being driven back. So if I headed east, I would have been on Highway 12, approaching Byron, and I never want to be approaching Byron unless it's in an automobile.

Going north, I would have gotten just past Kenwood, which would have meant turning back to go to the rest room. Heading south, I would have ended up in the middle of Big Basin Redwoods' State Park, which means I would have been lost. I'm a lousy outdoorsman.

Of course, had I headed due west, I would have been treading water in the Pacific Ocean, and since I haven't yet mastered that technique, I did not think a westward movement would have been practical.

Having rationalized myself out of that one, I sat home all weekend (soaking my corns after having walked to the corner mailbox) and contemplated the value of such an activity.

I finally decided that the only possible value 50 mile hiking could hold would be to decide the Cold War.

WITH PIERRE Salinger representing the Free World and Nikita Khrushchev representing the Communist Bloc, there could be a 50-mile walkoff between the prize pudgies (with Mao Tse-tung and JFK operating as seconds, of course) in a neutral territory—like India. The winner would win the Cold War and could be crowned with a laurel wreath at the finish line by Nehru, who would undoubtedly have laid bets across the board.

Such a plan would settle loads of border disputes and Menon could have his old job back.

Or perhaps the true test would be to have Khrushchev walk around Salinger. Should he survive that marathon, he'd deserve the world. Personally, I don't think he'd be up to it, unless they threw Jackie into the deal.

Maybe the best solution would be to have Nikita tour the Pentagon without a guide. Someone would be sure to microfilm and file him and he could be lost for years.

HAVING FOLLOWED Pierre's career quite closely for years now, I have great confidence in him. I began to take notice of him when he was a feature writer for a San Francisco newspaper. It so happens that he, I, and several others at one time, shared a plaque at San Francisco State college, which named winners of annual journalism awards.

The plaque has since disappeared, so I can't prove it, but as I remember, my name was right under Pierre's. It was because of this feeling of kinship that I initially followed his career.

All the plaque reminds me now is how grateful I should be that it was just my name—and not me — which was under Pierre. I was always a slight lad.

K of C Council Plans Tourney

The tournament is part of the council's year-round youth activities program.

Admission will be free.

CSM Loses In Fresno Tournament

College of San Mateo's baseball team had a lonely bus trip back home Saturday night, after a five-inning playoff game in the Fresno City tournament proved to be too short.

CSM was stung with successive defeats by the Fresno State Junior Varsity to finish in the runner-up slot in the two-day tournament.

CSM advanced to the finals with a 2-1 victory over Fresno City college and needed one more win to garner the tournament, but the Fresno State JV's beat them twice to thwart the Bulldog plans.

Fresno State jumped on CSM pitcher Phil Booker for four runs on five hits in the first inning of the five-inning playoff finale en route to a 4-3 win. Coach John Noce's squad caught fire too late in the game, scoring twice in the second inning on singles by Dennis Scott and Steve Gonsiorowski.

In their initial battle, Fresno State took a 3-1 decision over CSM, aided by a throwing error which gave them two runs in the third inning. John Morris scored the only CSM run in the contest when he singled and scored on a double by Duke Tadday in the second inning.

The highlight of the trip for the Bulldogs came against Fresno City College, where a 2-1 CSM victory in 13 innings gave Noce's crew revenge for last season's 5-4 loss to FCC for the Nor-Cal JC championship.

The victory was not without its bad side, however. Shortstop Rich Bruzza sprained his right ankle on his way to first after a dropped third strike and will have the ankle in a cast for three weeks.

Gonsiorowski scored the winning run for CSM in the 13th when he doubled and scored on Mickey Corso's single.

Bulldog Matmen Seek Win

Four Golden Gate conference individual wrestling champions lead College of San Mateo into the Northern California Jaycee mat meet at San Jose City college this Saturday.

Both of CSM's defending state champions, 115-pounder Jesse Cuedas and 137-pounder Mike Ruiz, won titles in their divisions in the Golden Gate conference wrestling tournament at CSM Saturday.

Also Bill Fife took the 191-lb. title for the Mateans and heavyweight Walt Wenger won his division. Wenger's victory in the last bout of the day gave conference champion CSM the tournament title with 65 points, ahead of Diablo Valley with 63; San Jose, 46; Oakland, 50; Foothill, 41, and Chabot, 14.

Only Matean to be defeated in the finals at Coyote point Saturday was 123-pound Gary Shouse, who lost an 11-7 decision to Oakland's Satoshi Kuritsuba.

In consolation competition, 130-pounder Bulldog Dick Hill took fourth place as he dropped a 4-2 decision to San Jose's Jess Ruiz.

Matean Mike Ruiz, with two quick pins in preliminary action, defeated San Jose's Russ Felice in the finals, and gained a near unanimous vote for the tournament's outstanding wrestler trophy.

Summary

Top league performance of the week was turned in by Timmy Dillon who collected 26 points in the Holy Angels Colts' victory over the OLPH Hilltoppers.

In the Eighth Grade league, the PAL Big Warriors moved into a first place tie by downing the New Pisa Reds in a squeaker, 22-21.

A one-two punch by Mike Wynne and Mike Miller led the PAL Tigers to victory over the OLPH Alley Cats. Wynne scored 24 points and Miller totaled 20.

In the Seventh Grade loop, action last week failed to break a three-way deadlock for first place. BYA Aero Motors, New Pisa and the PAL Bears continued to share the league's penthouse.

New Pisa almost got dumped out of first, squeaking by the Ben Franklin White Falcons, 31-28. Bill Schroeder led the winners with 12 points while Garber scored 13 for the Falcons.

The Bears took an easy win from the BYA Hotshots, 53-17. Dennis Smith collected 22 points to spark the winners.

The OLM Angels bowed to the MHR Chiefs, 32-24.

In other league action, the BYA Motors again showed the way in the defensive department, posting a 22-5 win over the PAL Wildcats.

In a fierce struggle, the OLPH Golds outlasted the BYA Hotshots, 30-27.

BAY MEADOWS

Jones Stable To Campaign In Meet Here

Farrell W. Jones, who is well on his way to his second successive Santa Anita training championship, will campaign his entire public stable at the Bay Meadows spring meeting.

Bay Meadows opens its 55-day season of thoroughbred racing Friday, March 8.

Jones is far in front of his opposition in the current conditioner's race at Santa Anita, after winning last year's contest off by himself.

The former jockey had only a token representation at the recent record breaking late fall meeting at the San Mateo course, but he informed president and general manager Joe Cohen today he would have his complete outfit on hand for the spring session.

The maximum number of horses allowable for any single trainer is 40 and Jones will be represented by just that many.

Derby Candidate

Included in the powerful entourage are such well known stake winners as Mandate, Henrijan, Ann's Knight, Edie Belle, Testum and Kea.

Jones also has a candidate for the $35,000 added California Derby in Elmore and Jameson She's A Baby. The California derby, which drew a total of 82 nominations for its forty-eighth running will be presented Saturday, April 20. Just two weeks prior to the Kentucky Derby.

Meanwhile, track crews were busy today resurfacing the one mile racing strip in preparation for the opening of training on Friday.

The racing secretary's office on the backstretch was opened this morning, with Bill Milner doing the honors, ably assisted by Ruby Adams.

Diran Remains At Cow Palace

The term of Edward Diran as acting-secretary-manager of the Cow Palace will be extended to the end of the year it was announced Thursday by Fred Parr Cox, president of the board of directors.

By unanimous decision at its meeting last Wednesday, the board of directors voted to continue the duration of Diran's appointment through December 31.

Red Erik, owned by George Ohrstrom, is the first Californiabred 2-year-old ever stabled at Hialeah in Florida. Red Erik was named after a Danish king and is trained by K. E. Jensen, who is also a Dane.

Mozzini Paces S.S.F. to Victory

By RON BATES

The Westmoor Rams and the South San Francisco Warriors entered the final week of the North Peninsula league today, all knotted up in first place.

The Warriors pulled off the season's biggest upset Thursday night by downing the Rams, 68-45, thereby ending Westmoor's hopes for an undefeated season.

Westmoor had swept through its first seven games without a defeat. This afternoon, the Warriors host Terra Nova while the Rams travel to El Camino.

The Warriors, who were up for the big one, collected a blistering 69 per cent of their shots in the second half of their game with Westmoor to record their seventh win in eight outings.

Rich Mozzini played what S.S.F. Coach Joe Schroeder called "one of his best games this season." The forward hit nine field goals and three free throws for 21 points and high point honors.

Dave Parenti scored 17 and Bob Szhener 16 to give the Warriors a three-pronged attack.

South San Francisco held Ram scoring ace John Kelly to three points in the first half.

Westmoor stayed in contention, largely through the efforts of Steve Schmuck who scored eight of his 13 points in the first two quarters. The Warriors led 29-17 at the half.

Kelly broke away from Warrior Ron Parr in the second half to dump in 14 points but he found the key too late as South San Francisco hit the baskets for 18 and 25 points in the final periods.

"They wanted to win tonight," said Schroeder. "They were playing solid defense."

Ram Coach Tony Giamonna credited the Warriors with a good game. "When a team plays like that, they have to win," he said. "We couldn't buy a basket."

COLTS SURPRISE

Jeff Barely Edges Colts

By MILT STAUB

Jefferson's change-of-pace basketballers, playing cold, hot and medium in turn, were forced to haul out all the stops Thursday night to subdue surprising El Camino in a furious 46-42 battle.

Leading throughout, save for a pair of free throws managed by the visitors at the onset, Mike Orlich's Indians were beset by a militant 21 point fourth quarter Colt bombardment.

They refused to panic, however, and rode their margin through to the concluding buzzer.

For the scrappy Colts, still seeking victory in their freshman season in the North Peninsula league, it was defeat without dishonor and but for some beastly travail during the first half, could have ended differently.

This is not a raggle-taggle squad that Coach Gary Kenny has assembled and when El Camino achieves its maiden win, too much surprise should not be occasioned.

The Colts were unable to secure a field goal until a minute remained in the first quarter and managed only one more basket during the second period.

Consistent rebounding by Jeff backcourt aces Steve Willis and Jerry Sullivan aided the Indians. Jefferson led 16-12, at the intermission.

The Indians were leading 40-30 with three minutes to go in the game when El Camino adopted relentless pressing tactics.

The final seconds of the game were frenzied. Eight points were scored, but the Colts made but four of them and Jefferson had nailed down a well-earned and important victory. Dan Boden's 12 points, all on field goals led the winners while Rod Aguilera and Walt Harris had nine for the losers.

Jefferson is now 5 and 3 for the season, two games behind Westmoor and South San Francisco with two games to go.

Mike Orlich pretends not to want to discuss the situation but there is no overlooking the possibility, remote as it may be, of the Indians gaining a tie for the title. The odds are vast but stranger things have happened.

Behind the counter is John Mitchell, manager of the Panorama Travel agency at 34 Park Plaza drive, who handled arrangements for the trip.

State May Eliminate Allocation

The second part of the Pescadero watershed dam study budgeted this year by the state department of water resources at $70,450 may be eliminated because of a San Mateo county policy against formation of any more small districts.

A recommendation that the second-phase appropriation be cancelled came last week from Legislative Consultant Alan Post. He claimed there was a lack of action and interest by the people in the area who want a flood control project on Pescadero and Butano Creeks.

Assemblyman Carl Britschgi (R-Redwood City) said Post, who opposed the original $44,684 study appropriation and was overruled following a special legislative hearing on the Coastside, has failed to realize that the proposed improvements would serve the whole watershed area from Pescadero south to Santa Cruz . . . an area too large for a purely local flood control district.

"I guess I will just have to try and convince the members of the Senate ways and means committee that Mr. Post really does not understand the local situation at all," Britschgi, who is vice chairman of the assembly committee, said.

Plan Project

"First I will have to meet with County Manager Robert Stallings about the county's decision to handle the study and planning for this project through an existing reclamation district in the watershed area, rather than creation of a new local flood control district by the residents themselves.

"You almost have to know the history of the many frustrating fights we have had in San Mateo county over creation of special flood control districts, to understand the county's decision to handle things this way."

Text of the legislative consultant's statement is as follows: "The department (of water resources) is requesting $70,450, for the second year's work on the coastal San Mateo investigation. This was done on the basis that the first year's work would involve collection if information, and data that would be useful to any agency proposing to construct a local water supply and flood control project on Pescadero and Butano creeks.

"It was further pointed out that the intervening year just completed would provide time for the United States Corps of Engineers to secure additional funds so that they could co-operate in the planning of the flood control project. (No funds were allocated, however.)

"The people would also have this year to form a district or zone which would assist in planning the project, and subsequently construct and operate the project.

"This three-part agreement was recommended as an effective means of co-operation between all the interests involved, which would assure that the planning undertaken by the state would result in construction.

"In view of the difficulties the department has had in planning other projects throughout the state, it does not appear wise for the department to progress further with this investigation until the local people have taken these three steps: (1) Decided what they want to do. (2) formed a district or zone to construct the project. (3) and participated in the formation of the project, or actually planned a project which themselves will actually construct.

"Only in this manner does it appear that the planning money spent by the department is likely to result in construction of a project with a minimum expenditure of planning funds."

School Teachers Tell 'War Chest'

A $150,000 war chest of public funds being established to torpedo the school district unification program in California was disclosed Friday in Burlingame by the California Teachers association in its publication "CTA Action." Legality of the plan is now being studied by the office of Attorney General Stanley Mosk, the CTA revealed.

According to the CTA report, the attack on the state "Master Plan Statute," which sets a deadline of September, 1963, for all counties to submit complete school district unification plans, is being spearheaded by the California Small School Districts association (CSSDA), an organization of small district school boards which might be eliminated by "economical district reorganization."

The anti-unification move came to light when Thomas M. Montgomery, Humboldt county counsel, requested the attorney general for an opinion regarding legality of the plan. The plan also has created a stir among county counsels throughout the state and was the first item for discussion at a statewide meeting of county counsels in San Jose on January 31.

Frederick Grundeman, president of the CSSDA and a school board member in Santa Clara county, has appointed a special committee for civil action. This committee has entered into agreements with Barnett and Robertson, a San Francisco law firm, for a campaign of litigation and publicity to invalidate or repeal the Master Plan Statute, the CTA said.

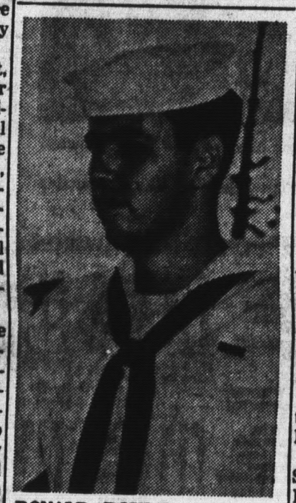
Purported aim of the participants in this scheme, the CTA reports, is to bring suit to have the statute declared unconstitutional and to obtain an injunction to prevent local county committees, the state board of education and the department of education from seeking to enforce unification plans.

In a letter to Arthur Nevins of Fresno, chairman of the special committee, Attorney Rodney Robertson of Barnett and Robertson set $100,000 as legal fees and $50,000 as "costs."

A Humboldt county school official says that "costs" are to include $20,000 to employ Ernst and Ernst, a Sacramento research agency, for studies of all participating school districts, and $30,000 to employ Whitaker and Baxter, a well-known San Francisco public relations firm. Whitaker and Baxter would be asked to conduct a statewide campaign against the Master Plan Statute.

However, James Dorais, a partner in the Whitaker and Baxter firm, told the CTA that no such arrangement has been discussed with his company. "I don't know what kind of a campaign they would expect for $30,000," Dorais added.

County counsels of Santa Clara, San Mateo, Marin and Sonoma counties have advised their school districts not to pay Barnett and Robertson, if they have contracted to join the proposed suit. "That'll mean some lawsuits," a deputy attorney general commented.



RONALD DOYLE of 89 Garwood drive, Daly City, was named Navy Man of the Month for February at the Naval hospital in Guam. He was chosen from 194 Navy personnel at the hospital.

Temple Judea Plans Meeting

Hillard Goldstein, president of Temple Judea, Daly City, announced that there will be a leadership conference for Temple Judea at the newly built Cabana Motor Hotel in Palo Alto. This leadership conference — the first ever to be held for the temple — will be on Sunday morning, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

"The conduct of the synagogue has always been in the hands of the laity," according to Rabbi Herbert Morris, spiritual leader of the congregation. "Men and women who make up the synagogue have always taken leading roles in the formulation of temple policies and progress."

Recognizing the need for dynamic lay leadership in the temple and the community, President Hillard Goldstein has invited all temple committee members and congregants to participate in workshop seminars at the conference.

To the Editor:

I want to thank you for the fine job of covering the bowling news from Sea Bowl. May I take the opportunity of relaying to you this fact:

During the past few weeks, I have heard many of my customers tell their friends to "read their names in The Post."

This assumes a very healthy position in this community for your paper.

Again, my thanks for doing such a swell job on the Sea Bowl news.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

TODAY is the first day of Lent and many busy homemakers are looking for something in the way of different meatless meals. So today we will start off with an interesting use of salmon.

SALMON LOAF

¼ cup mayonnaise
1 Tbsp. minced onion
1 Tbsp. lemon juice
¾ Teas. salt
dash of pepper
2 Tbsp. parsley, chopped
1 can salmon
2 cups biscuit mix
½ to 2-3 cup milk

Combine the mayonnaise, onion, lemon juice, salt, pepper, parsley and salmon. Then mix the biscuit mix and milk, knead a few times on a floured board and roll into an oblong shape. Wrap the salmon filling in this blanket and bake in 400 degrees oven about 20 minutes.

JUST as is, this is delicious; but if you like a sauce, a white sauce with a hard cooked egg sliced in it would go nicely with it.

WHITE SAUCE

2 Tbsp. butter
2 Tbsp. flour
1 cup milk
½ Teas. salt
Dash of pepper

Melt butter, remove from heat, add flour and mix until smooth. Add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Season. Makes one cup. Slice a hard cooked egg into it and serve with the salmon loaf.

IN CASE you are just not interested in a meatless meal today, here is a method of broiling chicken that Mrs. Jayne Cvitanich of 90 Baldwin avenue, Daly City, uses and it's delicious.

BROILED CHICKEN

1 chicken, cut up
mayonnaise
garlic salt
savor salt

Brush each piece of chicken with mayonnaise and sprinkle with garlic and savor salt. Let your conscience or your taste buds be your guide as to how much seasoning to use. Broil about one hour, turning pieces at 15 minute intervals.

NEXT WEEK'S offering will be an all-in-one dish and some cookies that will delight your lunch box carriers.

The Westlake Lutheran church begins a series of six midweek services with the theme "Journey to a Cross."

The series is planned to guide the congregation through Lent in the steps of Christ in his last days and hours, explained the Rev. Kenneth Hansen.

Each evening a filmstrip, singing and special music will depict a specific event in the journey of Christ. "Gethsemane" is the event for the first service this evening at 7.

Church Hosts Former Pilot

A first-hand account of flying between mission stations in the undeveloped mountains of New Guinea will be given by David Steiger, a former air force B-26 bomber pilot, this Sunday evening at 7 p.m. at Seacliff Community church.

DAVID STEIGER

Steiger was influenced by Nate Saint, one of five missionaries killed by the Auca Indians in Equador, to volunteer as a member of the Missionary Aviation fellowship.

Mr. and Mrs. Steiger and their two daughters, Miriam and Terry, are new residents of Westlake while Steiger extends his education. He is employed as an aviation mechanic at United Air Lines.

The Steiger family moved to New Guinea in 1954 where he served as the first MAF pilot. At present the work has grown to include five Cessna planes which provide transportation, food, medicine and various other supplies for 200 missionaries.

In addition to this they have built over 35 airstrips. This new method of supplying missionaries in undeveloped areas has revolutionized the entire operation

'Thinking' Held Vital Ingredient

"Thinking" is a vital aspect of brotherhood, Superior Court Judge Frank B. Blum told the fourth annual Daly City Brotherhood luncheon Thursday at Westlake Baptist church.

Speakding to a group of 30 church, civic, city and business leaders, Judge Blum declared:

"People just don't think. This is the problem. People want to have others live the way they do."

"Just think how everything you do is going to affect your family and then you might start to think about your neighbor."

The jurist said, in his opinion, "the average marriage can be saved from divorce by thinking." He explained:

"People think divorce would be better for the children. They think that because dad comes home drunk that it would be better for the kids.

"But they don't stop to think that maybe there's a reason for his drinking."

The luncheon was sponsored by the Daly City Ministerial association. The Reverend Herbert Tweedie, president of the association, was toastmaster.

Harold Wachter, cantor-administrator of Temple Judea, delivered a solo. He was accompanied on the piano by the Reverend E. Clark Robb.

The Reverend Hansel Stembridge, pastor of Westlake Baptist, gave the invocation. Micheal De Bernardi, vice mayor of Daly City, conveyed greetings from city officials.

Reservations can be made by calling WY 2-4258 or PL 5-8926.

WILL YOU KEEP LENT WITH US?

Ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers but with the precious blood of Christ as of a Lamb without blemish and without spot
